Product Description

If we think of a handle that's easy, comfortable and pleasant to use then many different ideas come to mind. Look also for an organic shape and we are undoubtedly thinking of the Cloud. Its design has its influences in the work of the Egyptian designer Karim Rashid, and not just for its use of colour, but also for the curvature of its shape. Cloud is a handle which is straight in its appearance, but that ends combining itself with two circles which draw an arch on the interior of the handle. This lends it an organic shape which is especially pleasant to use and makes it gain extra volume and personality when seen from a position either above or below. It is made from acrylic and is available in black and white. It comes in two sizes: 198mm and in a much smaller ovular version of 52mm.

Designed by the Viefe® team.
